Unique Capabilities for Country Clubs

Accounting for Country Club operations can get complicated. Membership types and classifications can be numerous with varied privileges, dues, and required minimums for restaurant and bar charges for some months. Accounting for restaurant and bar charges to compare against minimums to generate billings for any shortfalls can be cumbersome. The potentially numerous recurring and varying charges for lockers, cart use, capital contributions, etc. create an onerous task for billing members and others.

It is also complicated as the operation of a restaurant and bar where staff members work in various positions and get paid different rates creates special challenges for payroll processing.

ICOMMANDER Accounting Software provides features, which handle such complexities and greatly simplify the accounting process for you.

Accounts Receivable/Billing/Member Tracking

The ICOMMANDER Accounts Receivable System provides all of the capabilities needed for handling member tracking and billing of recurring and variable charges. This is the same system used by some fairly complex and dynamic businesses so you will not find any shortcomings in its ability to track outstanding balances and handle all forms of cash receipts and adjustment entries. Using ICOMMANDER A/R as your billing system involves using member/customer A/R statements as both the way new charges are communicated and to track outstanding balances.

If you have more complex billing needs, the ICOMMANDER General Billing System is available to handle this and to print invoices for charges where it is appropriate.

The separate ICOMMANDER Country Club Member Billing and A/R System functions as an extension to the base A/R System in order to handle the unique needs of country club operations which include restaurant and bar operations. This includes the ability to import charges from a cash register system and to automatically calculate and bill minimum charges due at the end of a month.

Accounts Payable

The ICOMMANDER Accounts Payable System lets you handle tracking of expenses easily with high-level capabilities for managing payables. It includes a complete job cost system which can be used to track capital projects or special promotions. Several options are available to ease and speed up coding of expenses to proper accounts, especially for invoices, which must be spread to many different accounts or departments.

Payroll

Standard options built into the ICommander Payroll System easily handle the complexity of varying rates and workers compensation insurance classifications for employees working in multiple positions. This is the same P/R system that is used by businesses and school districts with several hundred employees. As a result, you will find that almost anything you need to track regarding your employees is available. Features that do not apply are simply not enabled in order to avoid unnecessary complexity.

The start of a new calendar or fiscal year is largely a non-event for ICommander Payroll (and the other systems). You can start processing payrolls in a new calendar year as soon as needed and then return to a prior year or quarter at any time. Many personnel functions are also built into ICommander P/R so that it can be used to track almost anything about your employees.

General Ledger

ICommander also has a very powerful General Ledger System, which enables in-house management of the G/L and simple generation of a wide array of financial statements, including budget comparisons, if desired. If your accounting is handled by an outside accountant, we provide a G/L Chart Only System at no cost. This enables setting up your chart of accounts for ICommander systems to validate and track transactions using the same account numbers as used by your outside accountant. Summary and detailed reports by G/L account number are generated at the end of a period so the outside accountant can rapidly enter the activity for each period.

ICommander Menu, Control, Security, and System-Wide Utilities

All ICommander systems store complete detailed history of all transactions for as many years as you desire. Extensive reports on data and history files are available in each application. Reporting also enables you to easily explore reports on the screen. Detailed "audit trail" reports may be stored in electronic form using the report archiving option provided.

ICommander also provides "Free-Form Tab-Delimited File Creation" options on customer, member, vendor, employee, and various data files. This option lets you pick and choose fields from the various files, specify selection criteria, sorts, and column order to automatically create a file which can be imported into Excel and other spreadsheet software and turned into a formatted spreadsheet with just a few mouse clicks. Totals will already be there courtesy of ICommander. Various history reports also include an option to simultaneously or separately convert report output into a tab-delimited file for import into a spreadsheet. This allows simple access to even the most complex history files more simply than a pick and choose function could enable.

On Linux/Unix systems, there is an ICommander menu choice to convert any ICommander report into a PDF file which can then be viewed using the Adobe Acrobat reader. Any report may also be viewed directly from an ICommander session using a powerful tool that allows exploring reports and searching for patterns more easily than with the Acrobat Reader and without the additional steps to create and access a PDF file.

Multi-Company

Setting up multiple companies on ICommander is a simple task and is mentioned due to its potential applicability for separate operations within a club. Separate accounting may be required because of separate entity status or due to the specialized nature of certain operations. In some cases, setting up separate billing may be all that is required with shared use of accounts payable or payroll. However you need this to be done, it is easily handled via the powerful ICommander Core System that is included with the software.

ICommander Over the Internet

If you want the capabilities offered by ICommander but cannot justify the cost for purchase of the software currently, or you want to try it before you buy it, you may want to consider using the Internet.

ICommander offers an option for you to get the benefits of ICommander at a low cost by paying a monthly fee for access to servers at our office to use the software. Inexpensive software that allows this access and provides the necessary security and the ability to print reports back to your location is all that is needed on your computer. There is also an option to pay a higher monthly fee, which will be credited towards later acquisition for in-house use.

Menus and Feature Lists

There are feature lists for each of the ICommander Accounting Software Systems available for download on our website as well as a reduced copy of all menu screens for each system.

A wide range of IT and accounting services is available to assure your use of ICommander is successful. This includes helping you establish backup procedures and policies to minimize the possibility that a disaster could endanger your computerized accounting data.

Cost Effective

Spending money on new software when budgets are tight may not seem logical but an evaluation of the productivity gains and low ongoing annual costs for ICommander will show ongoing savings that make it illogical NOT to change as soon as possible. Software conversions are expensive. This can be your LAST one. There are several 20-year plus users of ICommander who can attest to this.
